Thank You Mrs. Elvie Ocampo! The Pre-Valentine Party that was single-handedly chaired and coordinated by Mrs. Elvie Ocampo raised $9,125.79. All proceeds are going to the school budget for this year. Mrs. Ocampo exceeded last year's party's net income. She is indeed a fundraiser extraordinaire.

"Mrs. Ocampo, you are the best! We don't know anyone who works as hard as you to help us, even if you don't have any family member in our school. We love you and may God bless you ten-fold."

Question—Should I allow my daughter or son to join an Internet Social Networking site?

Answer

- Prior to making this decision, you should first educate yourself about the social networking site.
- Once you have identified the social networking site that is most popular in your area, you must evaluate the site that your child plans to use and carefully read the privacy policy, code of conduct, and the rules.
- You should also find out if the site monitors the content that people post on their pages.
- The recommended age for signing up for most social networking sites is usually 13 and over, although many underage young people still join by simply claiming that they are older.
- If your children are under the recommended age for these sites, do not let them use the sites.
- Most importantly, if you have allowed your child or teen to join and create a profile you should periodically review your child's page and their friends' pages for content.
- In some cases, social status is based upon how many "friends" one has listed on one's profile or home page.
- It is, therefore, essential that caring adults not only understand how these sites work, but also that they remain actively involved in monitoring how children and teens are using the sites.
